Moral Tidiness Campaign Gets Under Way In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — The new era of moral tidiness proclaimed for Montreal by church and police officials has passed successfully through the initial period of trial and gives promise of indefinite duration.

The Roman Catholic Church has added its seal to this latest bid to ban from the streets of Montreal any "suggestive" exposure of the female body — whether in real-life or photographic form. Other churches have endorsed that general principle.

The church has attributed the "return to paganism" which prompted the movement to "the separation of family members during the war, general prosperity and the thirst for greater liberty."

TO WIDEN RANGE

As the campaign gains momentum over a longer period, it will attempt to curb a wide range of other corrupting influences including dim lights in city parks as well as salacious literature, films and stage shows.

Perhaps the full meaning of the campaign was first felt by tramway patrons who found in advertisement cards only a pair of ankles and a smiling face where the day before they had seen much more. Pasted neatly across the "ad" was a broad strip of white paper bearing the words: "Girdle shortage — patience please."

Many a curtain has been drawn across department store windows to permit discreet "re-adjustment" of summer clothing models by display experts.

Legal basis for the drive is the city by-law 1,025 of 1939, dormant during the war years, by which all material intended for public display must have the police chief's approval. The same law prohibits display but not sale of anything depicting the "nude or semi-nude" human form.

So far no serious infractions of the newly-invoked law have been reported and no charges have been laid.

SERGEANT'S PROBLEMS

Sgt. Pelletier, a genial father-familias, has been prodded by newspapermen to define "jewel poster." That description, he says, applies to any display "depicting a woman other than she would appear in public or before her friends."

He doesn't object to lanky hosiery models, but gives only qualified approval to two-piece bathing suits, which "may be tolerated on a beach or in a store window," but not "in a store window on a model."

Helps Deaf Articulate

NEW YORK (AP) — A new machine to speed and perfect the hesitant speech of the deaf has been devised by Herman R. Goldberg, a former professional baseball player who has been teaching deaf persons to speak for seven years. By electrical instead of manual operation of flash cards and correction signals, he believes the slow articulation common among the deaf can be speeded to approximate the normal rate of 13 articulations per second.

Residents of Ward 3, Saanich, are asked to disregard the notices mailed this week and be guided by the following instructions for clothing collections: Up to June 22 residents of Cadboro Bay, Ten Mile Point and Queenswood may leave clothing at the home of Mrs. J. L. Hobbs, corner of Hobbs Road and Maynard Street; residents of Gordon Head district should bring clothing on June 22 to the Community Hall, Tyndall Avenue. If unable to deliver, phone Albion 3Y or Albion 84 and arrangements will be made to pick up clothing.

New Jubilee Maternity Wing Opened

Provincial Secretary George Pearson formally opened this afternoon the new maternity wing of Royal Jubilee Hospital, the most modern maternity hospital in Canada, built largely through the generosity of citizens of Greater Victoria.

G. H. Stevens, president of the board of directors of the hospital, and other members of the board met Mr. Pearson, Mayor Percy E. George and members of the municipal staff, members of the clergy, heads of service clubs and subscribers to the building fund, at the Nurses' Home near the new wing.

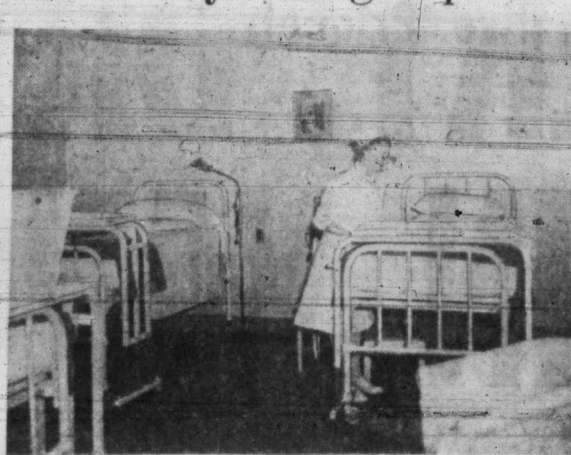

The group then proceeded to the entrance of the hospital, where Rev. W. L. MacKay, representing the Victoria Ministerial Association, gave the dedicatory prayer, and Mr. Pearson cut the ribbon at the doors and formally opened the hospital.

Actual occupation of the hospital will be delayed through lack of food trays and other furnishings, but the ground floor of the wing was ready for public inspection after the opening.

For the opening ceremonies and inspection, cards replaced plaques on the walls and doors to indicate special donations to the hospital. Only plaque was that of H.M.C.S. Levis, the personnel of which made a contribution to the building of the hospital.

At least one feature of the hospital, the cubicle arrangement for babies, in which the youngsters are kept separated from one another by glass partitions, is so up-to-date that a New York hospital has asked for the plans so that it may build a similar ward.

The wing has 73 beds, and could if necessary accommodate 90 mothers. The semi-public rooms and the private rooms are interchangeable.

This five-bed public ward in the new maternity wing has many modern features, including indirect night-lighting and handy over-bed tables, complete with mirrors, one of which is being adjusted by Lena Mitchell, director of nurses in the new wing.

Babies will be kept separated by glass in these cubicles, in a room sterilized by ultra-violet rays from an overhead fixture. Nurse Nan Tappin places a bassinet in its cubicle.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press World Affairs Writer

Moscow's counter to United States atomic energy proposals was so astounding as to preclude immediate response; indeed, it has been a moment for quick thinking but slow answer.

The American offer to throw overboard the vast advantage which it holds through possession of the atomic bomb secret was purely voluntary. It was meant to be for the benefit of mankind. Thus it has been disconcerting to have the mouth of its gift-house put under the microscope.

Still, the Russian proposition calls for careful consideration. It's no good saying—as one hears said—that the Soviet move throws a monkey-wrench into the machinery. A motion is before the U.N. Atomic Energy Commission and must be ironed out. President Truman himself, while reaffirming the American policy, has said the matter will be negotiated—and may lead to agreement.

There is such divergence of view on fundamental points in the two plans that diplomatic circles in Washington are wondering whether another controversy might develop among the great powers. United States officials, while indicating hope the differences may be cleared up, foresee a long and difficult road ahead.

Among the outstanding differences in the two plans is one which seems to carry the implication that Russia is entertaining grave doubts, or let's say, is protecting herself against untoward contingencies. This has to do with the U.S. suggestion that it would be willing to dispose of its atomic explosives altogether—after international atomic control is created. Moscow, on the other hand, wants American bombs destroyed, and the manufacture of others stopped, before the international machinery is working.

In short, Moscow is playing safe by trying to render the United States atomically impotent right at the outset. Well, maybe that's a smart move to make, although it isn't particularly complimentary to the motives of the United States, and it would seem to indicate suspicions which certainly can't make international relations any easier.

Hutson Expected To Quit U.N. Post

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times today said Secretary-General Trygve Lie of the United Nations will reorganize his "cabinet" within the next few weeks and it is understood John B. Hutson will leave the U.N. and take a new post in the United States government or private business.

Soon after becoming assistant secretary-general in charge of administrative and financial services of the U.N., Mr. Hutson made a public speech of welcome to Gen. Thaddeus Komorowski

(Gen. Bor) of the Polish army, no longer in the favor of the Warsaw regime.

The speech was protested by both the Russian and Polish delegates to the United Nations Security Council.

Typhoon Off Luzon

HONGKONG (AP)—The Hongkong harbor office warned shipping today of a typhoon in the Philippine Sea 200 to 300 miles off the northeast coast of Luzon. The typhoon was reported moving in a northwesterly direction and it was believed possible it might reach the China coast in this vicinity tomorrow.

India In Turmoil As Nehru Arrested By Kashmir, Native Princely State

NEW DELHI (CP)—India's major cities today were in turmoil with demonstrations and strikes protesting the arrest of Jawaharlal Nehru, Congress Party leader.

Bombay was virtually a dead city as 100,000 millworkers stayed home, the stock exchange and bullion markets closed, workers walked out of the Royal Mint, two railway shops closed, shopkeepers shuttered their windows and students boycotted university lectures.

All markets in Karachi, Calcutta and Madras were closed and in Calcutta the transport system was stopped by a strike. Several persons were injured during a demonstration in which police used tear gas at Madras, south India.

Nehru was arrested Thursday by authorities of the princely state of Kashmir. He had defied a ban against his entering that northernmost portion of India to defend Shiek Abdullah and others accused of sedition in connection with a recent abortive "revolt" against the Hindu Maharajah, Sir Hari Singh.

Nehru, president-designate of the Tival Congress Party and president of the All-India People's States Conference of which Abdullah is a member, was reported still in Kashmir, but reports conflicted whether he had been released from custody.

Military officials at Rawalpindi, near the Punjab-Kashmir frontier, said they were informed Nehru was released, but they did not know where he was. A dispatch from Srinagar, Kashmir capital, said the Congress leader was still detained.

Veto Stumbling Block On Atom Debates

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials seeking a formula for getting around the veto disagreement between the Russian and American plans for international control of atomic energy were reported hopeful today of eventual success.

The United States demanded abolition of the veto in so far as it would apply to world-wide atomic control machinery, but Russia has served notice she will countenance no change in the system by which the great powers must agree unanimously in the United Nations Security Council.

President Truman at a press conference Thursday said the proposals made by Bernard M. Baruch to the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission had his endorsement in all provisions, including that for curtailment of the great power veto right.

When questioned whether he was adamant in wanting these proposals accepted by other nations without change, he replied negotiations would be undertaken on points for an international system designed to promote peaceful development of atomic energy and to prevent its diversion to military uses should be written as a new treaty, separate from the already-accepted United Nations charter.

Thus each of the big powers would have the right to accept or reject this treaty, and unless all five accepted it at the outset it would not become operative.

But once the United States, Russia, Britain, France and China all had agreed to the treaty, none would be able to disregard its provisions simply by voting "no." In the actual operation of the proposed atomic development authority, questions probably would be decided by some kind of majority, possibly two-thirds.

Since all this would be done by treaty separate from the U.N. charter, the veto rights of the powers within the Security Council would not be modified in the slightest.

Manchuria Truce Extended 8 Days

NANKING (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek today extended the truce in Manchuria for eight days just 24 hours before it was to have expired.

The extension was widely regarded here as a concession to the Chinese Communists, who have been demanding an unlimited truce while unification talks are in progress.

The Generalissimo warned that "in view of the urgency of relieving the prolonged sufferings of our nation, no further delay should be permitted."

Negotiations have been deadlocked for three days over a government demand that Gen. George C. Marshall, special United States envoy, be given powers to arbitrate the internal dispute.

Canada Savings Bond Issue To Replace Victory Loans

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley announced in the Commons this afternoon that a Canada Savings Bond has been designed to replace both the Victory Bond and the war savings certificates as "the government security in which personal savings may conveniently be invested."

The bonds, to be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, will go on sale next fall when the 9th Victory Loan bond payments are completed and the sale of war savings certificates discontinued.

"The exact rate of interest and the maturity date of these (Canada) bonds cannot yet be announced, but I can say the terms will be more favorable than those existing for comparable investments at the time of issue," said Mr. Ilsley.

The new bonds will be sold to individuals only and the wartime system of payroll deductions will be continued. A limit will be placed on the amount an individual may hold in bonds, but Mr. Ilsley did not say what it will be.

Purchase of the bonds will be left entirely to individuals and no door-to-door or personal sales coverage will be undertaken. "The main purpose which influenced the government to extend facilities for investment of

$250,000 Needed To Rebuild Windsor Homes

To rebuild houses for 50 Windsor families left homeless as a result of the tornado which struck the city Monday, the Windsor Daily Star has already started a fund of $250,000 according to information received here today by the Victoria Daily Times.

"These people have lost everything," read a telegram from Adie Knox Herman, chairman of the board set up by the Windsor Daily Star.

"They are all people of very modest means. They had, of course, no insurance against such a disaster."

"These wrecked homes must be rebuilt and the Windsor Star has taken the lead in raising a fund for this purpose. At least $250,000 is needed."

First Vote Taken In 14 Years Polled In Newfoundland Today

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Exercising their franchise for the first time in 14 years, Newfoundlanders voted today to choose a national convention which will shape the governmental destiny of the British Empire's oldest settlement.

It was an election devoid of contentious issues, even to the point of absence of any organized parties among the 100-odd candidates.

In electing 42 members to the convention, Newfoundlanders will set up a representative body which will suggest a form of government to replace the commission which has governed the island since 1934.

For 80 years previous to that time Newfoundland was a self-governing Dominion, gradually descending to the depths of depression under the burden of a public debt which approached $100,000,000.

Then, revoking responsible government, the island virtually took the status of a Crown Colony.

The ultimate choice depends on the outcome of a referendum to be held, but the eventual decision rests with a number of possibilities:

1. Resumption of self-government.
2. Continuation of the commission, responsible only to London.
3. Combined form of government with both elected representatives and Crown-appointed members.
4. Federation with Canada.

PREPARING FOR DECISION

A PART FROM ANY COMMUNITY OF interest which may exist between the largest island immediately contiguous to Canada's Pacific coast mainland and the largest body of land similarly situated in the Atlantic, citizens of this community, as Canadians, will have more than a passing interest in the elections being held today in Newfoundland. In that colony, the oldest in the British Empire, voters have gone to the polls to elect from 124 candidates 42 members to a national convention which will determine the island's future status. The representatives they choose will decide which of five governmental systems they desire. Informed observers list the options as follows:

1. Return to responsible government.
2. Continuation of commission government.
3. Representative government in which some members would be elected and other appointed.
4. Union with Canada.
5. Union with the United States.

In so far as the fourth alternative is concerned, the door has never been closed to the possible entry of Newfoundland into Confederation. Specific terms in the British North America Act provide for such an eventuality and a clear decision favoring that course has been promised "sympathetic consideration" by Prime Minister King. The Dominion, however, will not seek to influence the decision of the people one way or the other.

The strategic significance of Newfoundland's geographical location needs no laboring. Canadian, American and British naval forces know from personal experience the defensive role the island holds. Nor is the vital part it played in global aviation any secret. Economically its fisheries have been a major factor in sustaining a not too high standard of living. What developments await its sensible exploitation of forest and mineral wealth remain to be seen. The island itself and the relatively unexplored territory of Labrador over which it holds control suggest rich possibilities. Canada, nevertheless, has not been inclined to view the colony as a major economic asset. To what extent its warborn improved financial condition will point the way to a sounder economic structure remains to be seen.

There are, however, many reasons why the Dominion will be more than academically interested in the decisions reached by the national convention elected today. The affairs of so close a neighbor can never be a matter of indifference.

NOT VERY CONVINCING

DOWN IN MONTREAL ON WEDNESDAY, the three visiting Russian journalists who have spoken on several platforms in the United States and Canada, wound up their tour of the eastern part of North America under the auspices of the National Councils of United States and Canadian-Soviet Friendship. Their parting shots at the press of this country were not characterized by either warmth or enthusiasm; they were, on the contrary, decidedly frigid. Comparing opinions he had seen expressed in the Canadian press with those of the Nazi press, Ilya Ehrenburg, the well-known Russian writer and war correspondent, complained to his Montreal audience that "there are those (in this country) who spend their ink in the hope that others will spend their blood," but despite the "abusive press," he would go back to Moscow with the message that "we have only one real friend here—the Canadian people." Maj-Gen. Mikhail Galaktionov, renowned as a military strategist, stuck to the Arctic atmosphere and told his listeners that, in Russia, newspapers would not be "allowed to attack friendly countries as is done here. . . . You have a cold climate, but the cold attitude with which the Canadian press greeted us does not reflect the feeling of the majority of the Canadian people."

Neither Mr. Ehrenburg nor General Galaktionov should be taken too seriously when they launch a blanket attack against the press of Canada. Practically every newspaper from Victoria to Halifax lauded with commendable enthusiasm the objective of the Canadian-Soviet Friendship Council. Here was an agency, so editorial comment went, which could serve the people of both countries, help them to understand one another, and so further the cause of mutual respect and trust—the foundations of an enduring peace. A certain section of the press, admittedly, did not take kindly to the idea. And nothing either the eminent Russian visitors or responsible Canadians might say or do would rid such newspapers of a deep-seated prejudice against anything Russian. Recent events, moreover, have enabled them to preen themselves and say "I told you so."

Of course the majority of the Canadian people are friendly disposed towards the great masses of the Russian population. At the same time, it is not likely that either Mr. Ehrenburg or General Galaktionov will be permitted to tell their compatriots how Canadians live and run their affairs, how they can criticize their governments to their hearts' content—or that it is the recent behaviour of Russian statesmen at the various international gatherings which has caused both newspapers and the general public of this country to doubt even Russian sympathy with the agency under whose auspices their journalistic visit to the United States and Canada was arranged.

CHANGE OF HEART

FRENCH COMMUNISTS EVIDENTLY have changed their tune since they have had an opportunity to study democratic reaction to their set-back in the elections of June 2. Immediately on the publication of the official polling results their principal spokesmen let it be known that the Communist Party would have nothing to do with a cabinet selected by the victorious conservative—Mouvement—Republican—Populaire, would not countenance its leader as President; and would still adhere to its belief in a unicameral Legislature as provided for in the constitution which the electorate rejected on May 5.

On the election, as President of Foreign Minister Georges Bidault—who is also the leader of the M.R.P.—on Wednesday, however, Communist leader Jacques Duclos announced that his party would "admit a second chamber that will be a second chamber," but "we will not consent that the chief of state be a puppet," nor do "we want him to be an absolute master." M. Bidault the only candidate for the presidency, received 384 votes when the Communists withheld their 150 to underscore a preference for a government headed by the Socialists.

An official breakdown of the votes cast in metropolitan France in the recent elections furnishes an interesting study of the party gains and losses since the election of Oct. 21, 1945. With the June 2 aggregate votes and percentage of votes placed first, the tabulation is as follows: M.R.P., 5,589,213 and 28.22% against 4,580,222 and 23.9%; Communists and lists sponsored by that party, 5,145,325 and 25.98% against 5,004,121 and 26.1%; Socialist Party, 4,187,747 and 21.14% against 4,491,152 and 23.4%; P.R.L., Peasant Party, Republican Federation and various parties of the Right, 2,526,872 and 12.77% against 2,886,099 and 15.2%; Republican Coalition of the Left, including Democratic Party, Radicals and others, 2,299,963 and 11.60% against 2,018,665 and 10.6%; International Communists (Trotskyites) and various lists showed a decline in vote totals amounting to 68,945, with the percentage lowered from 0.70 last October to 0.29 at the beginning of this month.

It will be seen from the foregoing that the Communist Party runs the Mouvement—Republican—Populaire a fairly close second—a disappointment, however, for M. Duclos who has enjoyed the premier role since last fall. But the result actually did not surprise competent observers of the French scene after the popular vote went against the first provisional constitution last May 5. It had been the hope of the Communists that this proposal would meet with a much better reception than it did; but the one-chamber Legislature which it advocated was a proposal through which an intelligent electorate easily saw. It spelled the prospect of Russian totalitarianism with a capital T; it was too much for the disciples of basic political liberties to swallow. It is now the duty of the newly-elected provisional Constituent Assembly to frame a new one and submit it for the consideration of the people about six months hence. Its content and fate will be awaited with interest. General de Gaulle's recent emergence into the political limelight, too, will bear watching.

THE ASCENDING SPIRAL

HOW STRIKES AND WAGE INCREASES affect retail prices of commodities from basic industries is reflected in a dispatch from Washington announcing that our neighbor's Office of Price Administration has raised the selling figure of soft coal, on an average, 40¢ cents a ton. The increases range from 10 cents to $1.47, depending upon the producing district and type of mine. Part of the increase is intended to offset losses suffered by the operators during the recent 59-day strike.

In other words, the gains which Mr. John L. Lewis won for his miners, amounting to about 34%, will be charged, for the most part, against all who use soft coal. The purchasing power of the American dollar declines proportionately. The ugly name for this process is inflation; and the new American coal price schedule—operative at its present level only so long as the government continues to operate the bituminous mines—affects the Canadian consumer. Nor is this all the news from Washington of concern to this country. It is expected that next week a price increase of no less than a dollar a ton will apply to hard coal, which the Dominion imports from the United States in large quantities. Here again this is intended to offset anthracite miners' pay increases.

And so it goes. Canada has done better than her neighbor in holding the line of wages and prices; but as it bends below the 49th parallel, so it will bend above it. What, therefore, does it profit an industrial worker if he eventually has to pay out 50 cents to get 25 cents?

Decisive Rejection

By B. T. RICHARDSON

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng. HERBERT MORRISON'S half-hour speech against the admission of the Communist party changed no minds at the Labor party conference. Everyone had made up his mind beforehand. The conference voted 2,678,000 to 468,000 against Communist affiliation.

Morrison spoke for the party's national executive and his statement was directed against not merely allowing the Communist party to become official working partners with labor, but also to settle the issue, if possible, for all time. Mr. Morrison's speech was a calculated fire attack upon the Communists. The conference then approved the amendment to the constitution which will deny affiliation to any party which has its distinctive program and propaganda or "owes allegiance to any political organization situated abroad." This does not affect labor's present affiliates such as the Co-operative Party and trade unions. This amendment was approved 2,413,000 votes to 667,000.

BEHIND THESE decisive majorities lies an important shift of British Labor party opinion. Morrison frankly admitted that as recently as three months ago the Communist party might have been admitted. Since then the Labor party's attitude towards the Communists has cooled, just as British affection for former Russian allies has waned. Some truth exists in the remark that every speech Molotov has made recently has reduced Communist parties everywhere outside Russia. To that extent Labor's problem, what to do about Communists, solved itself. That Labor's attitude towards the Communist party is closely related to the foreign policy was demonstrated a few minutes earlier by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin in his account of the international situation in a speech indicating that relations with Russia were near a deadlock—though he was prepared to try again at Paris next week. Bevin turned on his critics within the Labor Party and cried, "The greatest enemies to friendship with Russia are Russia's supporters in this country."

BEVIN'S VEILED accusations that Communist sympathizers were attempting to weaken his position in advance of the crucial conference of the Big Four foreign ministers further revealed the deep feelings which have been aroused within the party over relations with the Communists, though no hint came out in proceedings here in the conference hall of Bournemouth pavilion. Labor party leaders had carefully studied beforehand the possible repercussions upon European politics. Relations between the Communists and Socialists constitute a perplexing issue everywhere on the continent, whether in eastern Europe, where under the shadow of Russia they have entered into a shotgun marriage or in the west where social democracy gains an increasing vigor, the issue is the same—whether individual liberty shall survive as the West knows it. Everywhere the enemy to liberty is communism now that fascism is defeated. Democratic forces throughout Europe were watching to see what the British Labor party decided. One listener who watched proceedings closely was Leon Blum, French Socialist leader, whose party since liberation has worked in coalition with the Communists.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY'S emphatic rejection of the Communists will encourage liberal forces in Europe to avoid entanglements with the extreme left. Morrison's speech went much further than a polite rejection. He denounced the Communist party as a conspiracy; it caused trouble in branches of the Labor party and trade unions; it would embarrass Labor continually with its escapades. Its somersaults regarding support for war were known, but the Communist party had also advocated a negotiated peace with Nazi Germany. There were disturbing cases of espionage in the past in which the Communists were involved, using young and simple persons as dupes, ruthlessly wrecking their lives. Cases of this kind had occurred recently in Canada. If Labor tied itself to the Communists, "We would be in a kettle of soup." If something like that blew up in Britain at election time and the Communists were admitted to the Labor party they would have the right to be considered for membership in the British cabinet itself.

ONLY TWO SPEAKERS rose to advocate admission of the Communist party and their pleas lacked spirit. Jock Tanner, president of the Amalgamated Engineering union, said, the Communists were the energetic section of the working class and were needed to assist Britain in its drive for increased production. S. J. Merrells, chief of the Fire Brigades union, said the Labor party would need all the support it could get before long. Both were loudly booed.

No one was prepared to defend the Communist party from the deadly accusations voiced by Morrison. No one attempted to. The consensus of the conference was overwhelmingly that everything charged against the Communist party was true. An alliance with conspirators was impossible as far as labor was concerned. The Communists have disqualified themselves completely for political partnership. It must have crossed the minds of many that relations with Russia were rapidly approaching the same position. No delegate suggested there was still room for conciliation, either of the Communist party or the Soviet state. Nothing revealed the temper of the British Labor party on the issue of Communism more clearly than this.

Letters To The Editor

HIS POSITION CLEAR

A report of a meeting of a delegation from the Ministerial Association with the Parks Board committee which came out in your paper a short time ago, regarding Sunday sports, misrepresented the actual position that the delegates took, and has resulted in a good deal of mean criticism of the men who comprised that delegation.

I was one of the number, and I want to state quite frankly that I did not condone Sunday sports, nor did any of the men of the delegation. Somewhere between the meeting and the setting up of this report in the press, some misconstruction was placed on what was intended.

I want therefore personally to inform the readers of this letter that I could never condone the practice. I am definitely not in favor of games on Sunday in our parks and school grounds.

MYSTERY OF MRS. NOGGINS

Yes, mystery. Mrs. Noggins presents the facade of a working Englishwoman, an original thinker expressing herself in the idiom of her class. It has been said that you may recognize the English by their bad English and a foolish readiness to pay cash. Now though we know nothing of Mrs. Noggins' shopping habits, much of her English is unquestionably bad; but does that prove her English origin? I'm afraid not.

Indeed, bad English may prove a speaker to be French. It is a question, not of degree but of kind. If I hear a certain scenic drive referred to as the Melleret, I have two clues to the speaker's past. That "r" is English, those vowels Cockney. And if Mrs. Noggins should say, "wistful like," of the almost forgotten little girl next door "Eh! but hoo wur a gradeely lass," I for one would accept Mrs. Noggins as a credit to Lancashire. But despite her alleged kinship with "Erbert, a defaulting halderman of Liverpool, Lancs., our heroine's bad English fails utterly to support any such claim; the simple fact being that it isn't good bad English, but a rather spotty synthesis that is both too good and too bad to be true. Mrs. Noggins doesn't even misuse her aitches properly.

There's method in the badness of "authentic bad English." Consider the aspirate; the very word aspirate, beginning with a vowel and an accented syllable, invites a aspirate. Similarly, you may hear "himpidence," but seldom "himagine" (too much trouble), and never "hit" for "it"—a little word never stressed except by Mrs. Noggins and some American writers fresh from the English scene (see Paul Gallico's memorable goose story). The final consonant of the previous syllable may also be a determining factor. Have you never heard Mr. Churchill's "at 'ome"? I have, and I rejoice in the fact.

With Friendship to All; Malice to None

Mr. Churchill doesn't like tyrants, and the aspirate, which isn't a vowel or even a true consonant, is the tyrant of the alphabet. Why should an aspirate, which to many presents a real physical difficulty, thrust itself into the middle of "so snug a phrase as 'at 'ome'?"

No, Mrs. Noggins' English was never acquired in England, though it reveals certain unexpected English influences, ranging all the way from Dr. Samuel Johnson to Mr. Samuel Weller. As for Uncle Erbert, I believe him to be a mere figure of speech, for his niece has never betrayed the slightest knowledge either of the status of an English alderman or of the extreme gentility of the Liverpool variety. She is evidently ignorant of the saying current in Manchester when I lived there: "Liverpool gentleman, Manchester man."

Officers Installed At Rotary Luncheon

J. Leonard Hobbs, Saanich councillor, was installed as new president of the Victoria Rotary Club, succeeding A. V. Clarke, at a luncheon meeting held Thursday at the Empress Hotel.

Other officers installed were: J. Arnott and H. S. Graves, vice-presidents; A. H. Kerr, treasurer; W. G. Lemm, sergeant-at-arms; and W. R. Clark, L. Michellin, J. C. Nimmo, Capt. D. J. Proudfoot and G. S. Yardley, directors.

Installing officer was John A. Craig, who paid tribute to Mr. Clarke for his achievements as president, and declared Mr. Hobbs would "add lustre to a long line of able presidents."

Seated at the head table, in addition to the new and retiring presidents, were Mrs. Percy Scurrah, Ernest Emery of the Lions Club, William Hudson of the Gyro Club, Mrs. Clarke, Mr. Craig, Mrs. Hobbs and Miss Barbara Hobbs, Harvey Straith of the New Westminster Rotary Club, Hugh Francis of the Klusmen Club and Douglas Cushing, Montreal.

Miss Grace Adams sang "Gloria Mia," "I Love Life" and "Take Thou This Rose," accompanied on the piano by Edgar Holloway.

The retiring president reported club membership had increased by six to 159 during the past year, and that average attendance had been 85.5 per cent. Donations had been made to many worthy organizations and projects, he reported, including the Boy Scout and Y.M.C.A. camps, Community Chest, Salvation Army, Canadian Red Cross, Orphanage, May Day celebration,

These pictures, taken by an amateur photographer, show the tornado, which traveled at 250 miles an hour, coming in over the residential section of Windsor, Ont., Monday. Sixteen lives were lost and hundreds of persons were injured. Property damage was high.

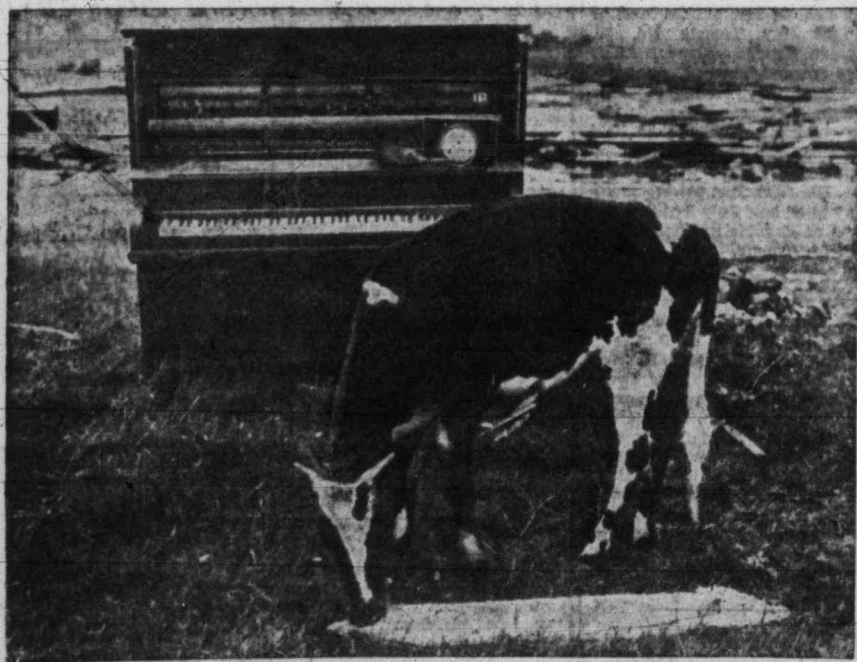

This crumpled car was tossed aside in the path of wreckage, landing in an open field.

The tornado hit this home at Ojibway, Ont., with its full fury, ripping off the walls and leaving the bathroom and kitchen completely exposed.

These unusual photos, made during the height of the tornado show the twister, left, near Windsor, at the height of the storm, and right, as it began dying after leaving trail of broken bodies and wrecked homes.

Queer tricks were played by the twister which carried wreckage and debris for miles from the stricken area. This unusual setting for the piano doesn't seem to bother the calf, which calmly continues grazing. In some parts the cattle were up to their knees in water.

Projector Stolen

A Quadra Street service station and a Saanich high school are the latest "victims" of burglars in Victoria.

Saanich police were notified Wednesday afternoon of the theft of a slide projector, a box of slides, and a pair of binoculars from Mount View High School.

City police this morning were investigating the theft during the night of $24 in small change from Hughes Motors, 1321 Quadra Street.

The school thieves entered the building through a coal chute and broke a lock on the door of the room where the projector was stored. In the garage burglary, a padlock hasp on a rear door had been removed.

Hamilton Wedding Of Interest Here

Climaxing a romance which had its beginnings in London, England, when the bride was a Red Cross worker in the Maple Leaf Club and the bridegroom was serving with the Royal Navy, was the wedding June 8 at 3.30 in Centenary United Church, Hamilton, Ont., of Mary-Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eltham Harrison, Hamilton, and John Graham Ruttan of Victoria, late of the R.C.N. V.R., son of Mrs. Ruttan and the late Maj. A. C. Ruttan, Victoria. Rev. Norman Rawson conducted the service, which was fully choral.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white crepe, in princess fashion, the dress having a yoke of rose-point lace, and a graceful circular train. Her pearl-encrusted Queen Ann headdress, made of lace from her mother's wedding gown, held her long veil of tulle illusion. White carnations and baby's breath were in her cascade bouquet.

Mother of the couple welcomed 175 guests to a reception aboard H.M.C.S. Star. The bride and groom are motoring on their wedding trip to New York, Lake Placid and Montreal before making their home in Victoria. For traveling, the bride is wearing a brown and beige cashmere suit with hat en suite and corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Clothing Drive Starts Saturday

Bright and early Saturday morning collections for the National Clothing Drive will commence in Victoria and Esquimalt, continuing Sunday in Oak Bay and Saanich.

Citizens are asked to put used clothing and bedding they wish to donate in strong cartons and in some conspicuous place on the veranda or at the gate where it can easily be seen and quickly picked up.

The committee in charge warns householders not to place laundry bags or clothes for the cleaners outside their doors the morning of the collection for it is impossible during a huge drive of this sort to distinguish between needed clothes and those intended for the drive.

Donors are also urged to be sure there are no valuables left in pockets of suits or pants.

"Many incidents of this sort occurred last year during the clothing drive with owners rushing in to the central depot later in the day—and for weeks afterward—to look for laundry and even for diamond rings alleged to have been left in the pocket of a coat."

All kinds of clothing are needed, including suits, pants, uniforms, work clothes for men and boys, infants' wear of all types, coats, dresses, aprons, sweaters for girls and women, shoes in pairs, tied securely with string, caps, felt hats, knitted helmets, gloves and mitts, woolen socks, underwear, piece goods and remnants, blankets and sheets.

The central depot for the two-day drive will be in the C.N.R. freight shed at Ogden Point. Depot telephone number for Saturday and Sunday only is E 0922.

McClung was named president, and her executive will be as follows: Vice-president, Miss Peggy Wharton; treasurer, Mrs. R. McVey; recording secretary, Miss Mary Smith; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. Others who spoke briefly were E. Henderson, honorary treasurer of the Solarium, and C. W. Laubach, of the administration staff.

relieved by removal of the appendix.

Deaths from appendicitis continue to decline as more people consult surgeons for abdominal pain instead of taking something for their bowels. A marked reduction of death rates followed the use of sulfa drugs and penicillin for complications.

If acute appendicitis is suspected, nothing should be taken by mouth until the physician has had a chance to examine the abdomen, as cathartics which stir up the intestines may cause a rupture of an inflamed appendix.

ATTACKS TEND TO RECUR While one attack of appendicitis may be followed by complete healing, usually there is a tendency for the condition to repeat itself, and patients should not be lulled into a sense of false security if they recover from an attack without operation. The second attack may be more serious than the first.

Failure to relieve right-sided abdominal pain by the removal of the appendix usually means that the trouble was in the bowel, urinary organs, or elsewhere. (Persons with irritable bowels often complain of pain in the side.)

If permanent relief follows removal of a normal-appearing appendix, or even one which shows scars, it is most likely due to relief of anxiety over the possibility of appendicitis.

LOVE'S

VIEW AT DOUGLAS

Dorothy Dix

LAZY HUSBANDS

Dear Miss Dix: I am only 18 years old. During the war I married a sailor about whom I knew nothing. He has now received his discharge and has settled down on me for support. He says there is no use in working as long as he can draw his gratuity from the government. He is in perfect health, but I have to pay for all of our living expenses. I know that people look down on him and pity me very much. Also, my job is jeopardized because my boss doesn't allow any loafers around.

I have no love whatever for this man, so what shall I do? A DISAPPOINTED WAR BRIDE.

Answer: Send him on his way. It is no part of a wife's duty to support an able-bodied man and the sooner you throw him out on his own, the better it will be for him. Get him going before he forms the lasting habit and settles down permanently on the do-nothing stool.

With a wife to support him and to provide him with food and clothes and a comfortable home and the government to give him beer money, he can see no reason for exerting himself, but it will be a different story if you lock the door on him and he has to pay for his own board and keep.

FOOLISH AND WRONG

If a woman's husband is sick or disabled and incapable of working, it is manifestly his wife's duty to support him; but if he is strong and healthy, it is another story. Then she is not only foolish, but wrong, if she lets him become a parasite upon her. For she encourages him in his laziness and shiftlessness. She kills whatever traces of manhood there may be in him and lets him become that most contemptible of all living creatures, a kept man.

Duncan Chamber On Union Leadership

DUNCAN—Federal government legislation to insure that "only citizens of Canada" be allowed to hold official positions in labor unions, and officials work in the industry which they represent was asked in a resolution endorsed at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here Tuesday night.

Members also asked that an independent audit and full publicity be given to union funds, that voting of labor disputes be supervised by the provincial government and that every employee in industry be allowed to vote on labor matters, regardless of union membership.

quests for wood fuel from cases which are in distress, our office is in a position to advise officers of dealers obtaining subsidized wood and these dealers will then haul to city of Victoria directions," Mr. Unicorn wrote.

"Failure to comply would result in cancellation of the dealer's subsidy assistance."

"...Gro-pup is highly satisfactory"

Mrs. Lillian O'Connor, Concord, Kansas, owner of the 6-week-old Keshond puppies, shown above, is an enthusiastic feeder of GRO-PUP. She says: "I have been using GRO-PUP cubes and meal since they first came on the market and find them highly satisfactory. I feed both dogs and puppies on GRO-PUP and all are in excellent condition. It is an excellent choice for dogs of all breeds."

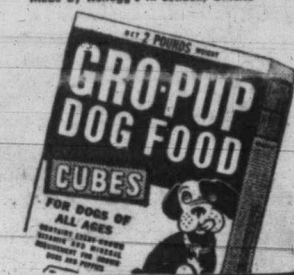

(Signed) Mrs. Lillian O'Connor Concord, Kansas, R.R. 3, Victoria, B.C.

Why breeders feed Gro-Pup

BREEDERS KNOW it is not safe to try to raise dogs on "table scraps" alone. Dogs must have a properly balanced diet that gives them everything they need for strong bones, sound teeth, and a beautiful coat. That's why breeders feed Gro-Pup.

IT'S A PROPERLY BALANCED DIET to keep dogs of all ages, sizes and breeds at their natural best. It is easily digestible. It contains every vitamin and mineral dogs are known to need for sturdy growth and vigour. MONEY SAVING! Gro-Pup costs about 1/3 the price of many other brands of dog food. ECONOMICAL! A 2-lb. box of Gro-Pup cubes feeds an average 15-lb. dog a week. GET IT at grocers or pet shops in the 2-lb. box of cubes—or in the new 5-lb. bag of meal... and at feed stores in either cube or meal form in bulk up to 100 pounds. Saanich School Board Proposes $13,000 Increase In Salaries

SAANICHTON—Taken aback with the salary proposals of the Saanich Branch of the Teachers' Federation, which would increase the mill rate from 8 to 14, in the opinion of Trustee F. J. Baker, the school board at a meeting in Orange Hall, adopted a plan which will increase the assessment rate to 12 mills and cost ratepayers $13,000 more than present cost.

The plan adopted was one presented by Martin Neilson, chairman of the board. Under the plan, all teachers would receive the yearly increment of $75 for a period of 12 years. Minimum salary for elementary teachers was set at $1,200 and for high school staff at $1,500.

Allowances for principals were set at $50 a year per room, thus high school principals in District No. 63, the Saanich area, would each receive $300 a year additional.

Trustees looked with gloom upon figures presented by teachers from School District No. 63. The teachers had been asked to present a salary schedule, and the board found that an increase totaling $24,175 was suggested, an increase of over 44 per cent. N. McNaughton stated the teachers' salary schedule had been considered but that it was quite beyond the financial possibilities of the board. Schedules by A. Sansbury and Mrs. D. H. Bryce were then presented. In that of Mrs. Bryce many new innovations were introduced. Financial assistance to teachers for traveling and a bonus for principals of $1 per year per pupil for elementary and $3 per pupil for high school were ruled out as not feasible.

Mr. Neilson pointed out the need for a certain fixed scale to the end that a teacher would know just what to expect. With an increase granted for meritorious work by a board one year, he pointed out, that grant could be withdrawn by another board, the following year.

Trustee Baker in an earlier statement presented the following resolution: "That the proposed salary schedules submitted by the Saanich Branch of the Teachers' Federation, which we consider fair enough in view of the present cost of living, be deferred by this board until the provincial government increase the grants sufficiently to take care of the increased scale of salaries."

New League Asks Ottawa To Maintain Ceilings, Subsidies

The Anti-Inflation League, a group aimed at maintaining wartime price ceilings and subsidies until production of consumer goods meets demand, came into being Thursday night at a meeting sponsored by the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference.

Present at the meeting held in the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Hall, 602 Broughton Street, were delegates from 45 organizations, including A.F.L. and C.C.L. unions of the Greater Victoria area.

Copies of the following resolution, passed by the meeting, will be forwarded to R. W. Mayhew, Victoria M.P., and Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Nanaimo M.P.: "Whereas the continued rise in the cost of living is steadily reducing the standard of living of Canadian people, causing hardship to those citizens receiving low wages and salaries and to other low income groups on fixed pensions, and whereas the lifting of price ceilings and the removal of subsidies are now and will become more and more a factor in increasing the cost of living, therefore this conference urges the government to retain price ceilings and subsidies in operation as they were during the war until such time as the production of consumer goods meets the demand."

WANT WILLOWS FOR SPORTS There was a spirited discussion in regard to securing fuller use of the Willows for sports, and the part which the Recreation Council can play in organized sport. The dearth of practice space for basketball, lacrosse, hockey, and other games was brought out by Ivan Temple. It was regretted that it has been necessary for all those who wished to practice hockey to go up to Nanaimo.

It was announced that Dr. Henrietta Anderson will chair the section for larger cities at the Community Centres' Institute dealing with recreation to be held at U.B.C., June 24 to 28. Mrs. C. Buhlin and Alf Batchelor also plan to attend. Others wishing to avail themselves of this opportunity for training are asked to telephone Dr. Anderson at G 1246.

Mines Delegation Interviews Cabinet On 44-Hour Week

A two-man delegation today saw the provincial cabinet to give expert testimony on the application of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers for extension of 44-hour work week legislation to metal mines of the province.

Mines Minister R. C. MacDonald has announced he will set up a committee to study the request.

Members of the delegation which saw the cabinet were Dr. J. T. James, president of the B.C. Mines Association, and A. E. Jukes, broker and member of the association.

Mr. MacDonald gave no indication of what representations had been made by this delegation.

The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers has presented an eight-point program to operators asking for a 40-hour week, 29 cents an hour across the board pay increase, differential pay rate for second and third shift work, vacations with pay, sick leave, severance pay, guaranteed annual work and check-off and union security.

Pending completion of negotiations on these demands, the union has sought application of the 44-hour work week law to the industry.

The provincial Mines Department has been studying the possible effect on the industry of the 44-hour work week legislation.

Criminologist Here For Court Hearing

Inspector J. F. C. B. Vahce, Vancouver police criminologist, testified in city police court today in the preliminary hearing of George Paton and Charles Brown charged with breaking and entering the Crystal Spring Soda Water Company plant, Richardson Street, early in the morning of May 30. After he gave evidence the men were remanded until next Friday for continuation of the hearing.

The inspector presented articles of men's clothing, a crowbar and a piece of window frame which he said he recovered from Detective Angus Monro of the Victoria police. The clothing was stained with human blood he said, and impressions on the piece of window frame fitted the shape of the crowbar. A pair of canvas gloves were stained with blood and soap, and had green paint on them, similar to paint on the crowbar.

Expects Increase In Jobs Listed

C. A. Mudge, Employment Service manager, today anticipated an increase in job vacancies as more materials become available due to the end of the lumber strike. He noted another drop last week in vacancies with jobs for males down to 386 compared with 449 the previous week.

These included 20 clerical, 37 sales, 40 service workers, 116 construction, 65 skilled and semi-skilled, 126 unskilled.

In the female section, job listings fell from 378 to 351. For this week there were 32 clerical, 21 salesworkers, 64 domestics, 143 service, 41 dry cleaning and laundry, with the balance in unskilled jobs.

The first Europeans to visit the New World found the Indians using petroleum.

Sawmills Here Will Not Achieve Full Production Until Monday

A majority of the 700 woodworkers in the Victoria district will not be back on the job at sawmills and logging camps until next week, John Wainwright, secretary of Victoria Local 1118 of the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), reported today.

Mr. Wainwright reported some of the mills had reopened Thursday immediately following the end of the 37-day-old strike, others were reopening today, but not all these have yet achieved full production or are employing full staffs.

A majority of the staffs would start work at 8 Monday morning, he reported.

Return of men to the logging operations in the outlying districts of the Victoria area is slower than the sawmills, but it is believed the majority of the woodworkers in this area will be back in logging camps also by Monday.

Some mills have been effecting repairs before calling their employees back to work. Others have required a couple of days to get steam up.

The strike formally ended at noon Thursday with the signing before Chief Justice Gordon Sloan of the 1946 master contract providing for incorporation of the recommendations made by the Chief Justice, acting as a non-binding arbitrator, on June 1. Since that time signing of individual contracts between the I.W.A. and the various operators has been proceeding.

The 1946 contracts are effective as of Thursday and will continue until June 20, 1947, if reopened. If not reopened by either party the agreement will continue indefinitely.

Forest Fires Sweep Thousands Of Acres In Northern Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—Bush fires flared into serious conflagrations today at scattered points throughout the great northland east of the Manitoba boundary, across northern Ontario.

Apparently most menacing was the outbreak just northwest of Sault Ste. Marie, about 75 miles south of Cochrane. That blaze was being fought by 150 men and threatened thousands of acres of timber and bush. Farther north in the Cochrane district several thousand acres of jackpine slash had been burned. District Forester A. S. Bray at Cochrane said new fires were "ready to explode."

Reports to the Ontario Lands and Forest Department showed forest rangers were directing hundreds of volunteers, chiefly lumberworkers, in fighting the various outbreaks. They were cheered somewhat by rainfall Thursday which helped ease the threat in various sections, although the downpour was by no means general or soaking.

Drivers In Crash 5 Months Ago In Police Court Today

Judgment in the trials of Donald A. Falconer and Vincent Patterson, charged separately in city police court with dangerous driving as a result of a head-on collision on Quadra Street early in the morning of Jan. 20, was reserved until next Thursday after evidence was completed today.

The two men were remanded for trial until today because passengers in their automobiles required as witnesses in the hearings, were in hospital recovering from injuries received in the accident.

Falconer was represented by Norman Whittaker, K.C., and Patterson by H. W. Davey, K.C. Evidence submitted in the Falconer trial was used at consent of counsel in the Patterson case. Sgt. John Howe of the city police testified both cars were damaged badly, the engine being driven back by the force of the impact. Constable Brooke Douglas said Patterson claimed the Falconer car was on the wrong side of the street. Patterson repeated this when he took the stand. Falconer said the two cars approached normally and suddenly, without warning, Patterson's car crossed in front of his machine. Falconer and five passengers in his car all testified they had had about two drinks of rye while at a dance prior to the accident.

Mr. Raleigh is a native of Peterboro, Ont. He was grain agent at Winnipeg in 1929, went to Brandon as district freight agent in 1930, and in 1934 went to Moose Jaw in a similar capacity before going to Port Arthur in 1937.

Council Records Regret At Death Of J. W. Spencer

The City Council today recorded its deep regret at the death of John Williams Spencer. The council expressed its appreciation of the good citizenship of the late Mr. Spencer and of his services as chairman of the Vancouver Island Division of the National War Finance Committee and in various other capacities in the public interest.

Condolences were extended to the bereaved and a copy of the resolution sent to Mrs. Spencer.

Face Difficult Job Selecting Winners Of Flower Exhibits

Judges faced a difficult task today in choosing winners amid a dewy-fresh profusion of begonias, roses, sweet peas and other blossoms at the June flower show of the Victoria Horticultural Society in the lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden.

In two classes, however, there were only single entries. The Lake Hill Women's Institute entered the only general floral display, a fine exhibit of flowers of several varieties. John Naysmith, with an excellent display of pot plants, had the only entry in this class.

Judging started at 1 o'clock, an hour before the doors were opened to the public, but not expected to be complete until late afternoon. Judges were W. G. Darling, head gardener at Government House; Fred Saunders, head gardener at Empress Hotel; W. C. Hamilton, head gardener at the Lansdowne Road Military Hospital; and E. W. White, Department of Agriculture.

Non-competitive exhibits on display included roses and sweet peas from Beacon Hill Park, entered by the City Parks Department; roses by George Nunn, Sidney; newly developed lily varieties from the Ottawa experimental farm, the new Shasta daisy named Mount Shasta, and other blossoms shown by W. Goddard, and begonias exhibited by H. Gurney.

The display of begonias, both cut and in pots, and the showing of roses rivalled each other for beauty, both roses and begonias being shown in great numbers. Ald. D. D. McTavish, secretary of the society, commented that the rose display proved Victoria did not take second place to Portland in quality of roses, but only in quantity.

More sweet pea entries were received this summer than in any show for several years, Ald. McTavish said.

The show will remain open until late this evening, and from 10 a.m. until 9.15 p.m. Saturday, when it will end with an auction.

Only One Victorian Enters Power Boat For Cruiser Classic

Only one Victorian, G. H. Patton, 730 Bowlsby Place, has entered the International Cruiser Race, the power boat classic scheduled for July 12 and 13, after a lapse of four years.

Mr. Patton is entering his 48-foot cruiser Allen, which is powered by a 102 h.p. Gardiner Diesel engine.

The race, covering a distance of approximately 126 nautical miles, is conducted on a predicted time, and will start from Port Madison, north tip of Bainbridge Island, Wash., and finish at Nanaimo.

The race will be run from Port Madison through Puget Sound, Possession Sound, Saratoga Passage, Deception Pass, Rosario Strait, Lopez Pass, Lopez Sound, Harney Channel, Pole Pass, North Pass, Spring Passage, to the north of Flattop Island, to the north of John and Stuart Islands, Swanson Channel, Trincomali Channel, Dodd Narrows, Northumberland Channel to the finish line at Nanaimo.

Control points will be located at Sandy Point Light, Hope Island Light, Pole Pass Light, Walker Rock Light and the finish line.

An outstanding event for power boats of the Pacific northwest, the race was first run in 1928.

To Unload Nitrates

Ss. Tobatic Park is due in at James Island Sunday to unload nitrate of soda. Cecil Ridout, manager of King Bros. Ltd., shipping agents, said today.

The Park ship, which brought the cargo up from Hopewell, Va., will proceed to New Westminster after unloading is completed.

To Buy Less Beef As Ceiling Removed

Because wholesale ceilings were removed on the first two grades of beef, Victoria butchers "will buy no more than the very lowest requirements in order to fulfill obligations to customers," according to a decision of the Vancouver Island Retail Meat Dealers' Association.

At a meeting Thursday evening Reginald Williams, association president, pointed out "the more we sell, the more we lose." He said packers' price for the top grade of beef to butchers has risen to 25¢ a pound.

"Our quarrel," he said, "is not with the packers. It is with the officials who brought about this situation."

Mr. Williams told the meeting that lifting of wholesale ceilings had been an experiment and that retail butchers were the "guinea pigs." He stressed that since retail ceilings remained butchers were unable to pass on the increased prices to customers. Because of this the retailers were being unjustly penalized.

He also commented on a remark by Donald Gordon when the Wartime Prices and Trade Board chief said that butchers instead of selling beef would have to sell cheaper qualities of pork and other lines.

Mr. Williams noted that lamb, veal and pork were all scarce.

Landlords Ask Rent Adjustments

The Landlords' Protective League of Victoria has written Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, suggesting the time now has arrived when rents should be equalized.

The league has forwarded the following resolution:

"Whereas rents were frozen to stop a boom price in rentals and in some cases at an extremely low figure; actually pre-war levels, and

"Whereas, later, buildings coming into rental were rented at a higher and more fair rental; and

"Whereas, costs of labor and materials for repairs and renewals have increased as much as 30 to 40 per cent during the past few years

"Therefore, we, the Landlords' Protective League of Victoria, B.C., do resolve that it is time that local rental boards be instructed to allow these low rentals to be raised to an equitable figure with other houses of like accommodation."

The league was incorporated June 1 of last year.

Province To Survey B.C. Co-operatives

A survey will be launched almost immediately by the Bureau of Economics and Statistics in co-operation with the superintendent of brokers of co-operative operations in British Columbia.

Announcement of the survey, which will include an inquiry into memorandum of association and by-laws, methods of financing and business procedure, was made today by Trade and Industry Minister Leslie H. Eyres.

Special instructors are needed for junior carpentry, clay modeling and drama. Dr. W. W. McPherson and Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn offered the facilities of the Sunday School rooms at Oak Bay United Church and St. Mary's Church for the use of groups of small children. Volunteers willing to help with telephoning, typing, story telling, chaperoning swimming classes and picnics are asked to telephone Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, E.6165.

LARGE, CURVING
RAILWAY BRIDGE EXISTS
IN SWITZERLAND

It is one thing for a bridge to be used by people on foot, or riding in carriages or wagons, and it is quite another thing for it to carry the weight of a railroad train.

Some early bridges were large and strong, but bridges in general have grown in size and strength since the coming of the railway.

The building of railway bridges started more than a century ago, on both sides of the Atlantic. The United States has the bridge with the longest record of steady use by trains. Known as the Carrollton Viaduct, it was built in Maryland 117 years ago. Soon the little locomotive known as "Tom Thumb" passed over it.

That locomotive weighed three and a half tons. As time went on, larger and larger locomotives crossed the bridge, until it was proved, strong enough, in the present century, to support locomotives with a weight of 350 tons, along with the coaches which followed.

The Carrollton Viaduct was built of stone. Many other stone bridges have proved sturdy enough to stand the strain of trains passing over them day and night.

The huge Rockville Bridge, a few miles north of Harrisburg, Pa., is a more modern type of stone railway bridge. Into its building went about 220,000 tons of stone!

When we study railway bridges, we find that it is the custom for the tracks to approach them "squarely." Engineers would say it was a mistake to have the tracks curve as they start across, or as they leave, except in special cases.

The greatest "curving railway bridge" is in Switzerland. It is called the Landwasser Viaduct, and goes across Albula Pass in the canton of Grisons.

The engineers who planned that bridge made it curve because they saw no other way to send the tracks across the pass. It seemed out of the question to use steel, so they directed that the bridge be made from bricks.

Towers of brick were built up from the gorge below, and brick arches were prepared at the top. The bridge has six arches, and its height is 213 feet. Hundreds of trains have made the sweeping curve across it.

Canadian Issues Evenly Divided

NEW YORK (AP) - Selected stocks regained their equilibrium in today's market, following yesterday's tumble but many leaders continued to display slipping tendencies.

Dealing, lively in the forenoon, tapered somewhat later as early advances running to a point were reduced in a number of cases.

Trends stiffened in the final hour and, while losers were plentiful, recoveries predominated near the close.

Canadian issues at midday were evenly divided as to gains and losses. On the upside, were Canadian Pacific 1/4 at 19 1/2 and Dome Mines 1/4 at 24 while in the minus column were International Nickel 1/4 at 38 1/2 and Hiram Walker 1/4 at 42 1/2.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

30 industrials, 268.09, up 2.57

20 rails, 60.50, up .45

15 utilities, 41.83, up .38

65 stocks, 76.44, up .81

Total sales, 1,340,000.
